Building Bridges: Gandhi's Path to Tolerance

Lecture: Saturday, January 30, 2010

3:00 - 5:00 pm

Concord House: 1407 Chapala St., Santa Barbara

Speaker: Gerry Kiffe

How did Gandhi demonstrate an imaginative and non-violent means of overcoming sectarian violence and of building communities with true toleration of diversity? In our time of uncompromising polarizations and animosity between religions, ideologies and partisan political positions, what can be learned from Gandhi's principles and self-sacrificing practice? This meeting that commemorates the 62nd anniversary of Gandhi's death includes both an introductory talk and discussion by participants.
